

7.1.15 The institution offers a course of human values and professional ethics.

Description: The institution is affiliated to S P Pune University. Therefore it is mandatory to follow the course curriculum and academic practices of the University. The University has introduced the course on human rights which has the coverage of human values and the institution teaches that subject in a given semester.

The University designs a management course curriculum through its academic statutory bodies namely board of studies and faculty board. The designed management curriculum given to the institution has the focused input of ethics. The institution is also care and concern in classical conditioning of learning, operant conditioning of learning and case studies as well as in its role play technique a thrust is given for management function to be performed with ethics by future managers. So ethics are the foundation in management functions by manager in the work culture in the role behavior of manager.

Deshravkb
DIRECTOR
IIMHRD (W)
PUNE